

The Top 12 Things I Learned from the Galactic Federation in 2005

by Bryan James

12. I met William Shatner (from Star Trek fame) at an inter-galactic party in another dimension while I was attending an event in New Mexico. I learned that he's originally from a high-technology planet and was created half machine (not important but quite interesting to see).
11. I noted while teleporting around that 'people' on Venus and Mercury look a lot like Earthlings. This is interesting in comparison to the Preying Mantis like beings that come from Jupiter. Several of these beings (they were about six feet tall) stopped by while I was attending a seminar in Portland, Oregon.
10. The Star Wars epic accurately depicts the battle the Light is waging with the Dark for control of the galaxy. Unfortunately, this 'struggle' is not widely understood, but my son and I have seen several enemy ships shot down and enemy warriors destroyed. A lot of spiritually minded people correctly assume that we should focus on love and tolerance, but are unaware that when we ask for protection from our angels and etheric bodyguards, that protecting us involves quite a bit of spiritual combat.
9. NASA is not telling the truth about the 'Deep Impact' comet that is headed toward Earth. I witnessed the comet heading our way in vision, the explosion that occurred when they sent a "satellite" into it (I wonder if it wasn't really a bomb considering the flash of light I saw when it impacted), and I was on the bridge of a space vessel that was closely monitoring the comet's trajectory (Two crew members were viewing it through what looked like a gyroscope).
8. The real global terrorists are not Muslims from the Middle East. For sure, those responsible for the subway bombings in London weren't Arabs, as I've seen the real enemy several times in visions. How tragic that even many millions of Muslims don't realize this.
7. We've been 'kept out of the loop' about secret activities on the Moon. I've seen the mining activities which could upset its rotation around the Earth and lead to a global calamity. There's probably nothing we can do about this other than send Light.
6. To optimize our ability to connect to our angels, etheric teachers or Galactic Federation Lightworkers, we need to 'unplug' from the grid whenever possible. This includes our cell phones, televisions, microwaves, computers, etc., when they're not in use. The accumulation of electromagnetic energy interferes with our ability to connect with them.
5. Dark forces really are planning what prophets have called the "great tribulation," but we can alter that probability with our Lightwork. Scientists from Caltech in Pasadena, CA were amazed by the large earthquake that never happened in California as predicted in 2004. Review the various articles on my site to learn how you can help "stop the madness."

4. All life on Earth is aware of the universal Light energy and they do and will work with us to support and heal our planet. Some of my most beautiful and magical experiences were while I was exchanging Light with the great Sequoias, and I am frequently visited by the spiritual aspects of ocean and land creatures and their Devas.
3. The Federation provides each of us with amazing spiritual technology that we can access for the planet and ourselves, if we ask for it! This technology is also provided for our children. Order a copy of Agents of the Federation to learn how you can access this marvelous technology.
2. Our children are excellent Lightworkers (i.e., effective at accessing and sending healing energy throughout the world) if we train and encourage them. I've activated numerous children by sending them Light energy and I noticed that they immediately tune in to their earthly mission. Through our book, Children of the Light, you can learn how children like yours will respond and adapt to Light energy and 'their special calling.'
1. Our best strategy our dealing with what's predicted to be a challenging 2006 is by generating the Love energy and its various spiritual properties of compassion, mercy and forgiveness. Holding positive thoughts is very good and vital, but learning to actually flood the Earth grid with overwhelming love energy in partnership with the archangels, ascended masters, Federation Lightworkers and other inter-dimensional beings will raise the planet's vibration beyond the Dark's ability to respond.
